General VOC Moon Advice (VOC times are highlighted)

Don't begin anything new, such as a project, business or class. Don't try to sell anything or convince someone of something. If you meet someone new, don't be surprised if it doesn't work out as expected. Don't marry anyone with the VOC, or move in together or sign any contracts (unless you don't want them to follow through). Don't shop for anything important and don't buy anything expensive. Do go through that pile of mail you have to answer, file those papers and edit writing. Plow through with tasks that don't require any interpersonal communication. Do go through a box of things you've been meaning to see if you still want. Meditate, relax and take time to smell the flowers!

June 2010

6/1 This is a high-energy day with lots of invitations for networking and experimentation; you decide which offers suit you. A sudden inspiration could send you on a day-trip or tangent that may lead to spiritual or creative (or both) heights. Aquarius Moon

6/2 Aquarius Moon helps create stimulating ideas although they may be at cross-purposes, especially in the afternoon ET. The important thing is to stay clear on the goal and avoid any adversarial conversations. In the end, this can all work out to everyone's advantage, or simply be an exercise in imagination that flies high but cannot come to earth. It all depends on the players involved and if they can keep their egos at the door.

6/3 A great morning for meditation and connecting to people about the things that truly matter. Just be sure you remember where you put your purse down and to take it when you leave, because your head may be on big ideas and miss the details. The moon is VOC from 10:56 am to 1:33 pm ET in Aquarius. Then it enters Pisces and we enter a period of potentially fortuitous outcome for projects launched. It is important to trust your intuition at this time and let circumstances flow; if you try to be too rigid with planning you may be disappointed. The evening bodes well for deep conversations especially about shared resources (or intimacy!)

6/4 A Mars/Neptune opposition in the sky sets the scene for histrionics, confused arguments or debates that go nowhere. This does not improve as the day goes on, so depending on your line of work, try to avoid confrontations or important meetings, unless of course it is your intention to have things unresolved. Everything may work out to your advantage in the end, but not if you try to force something through today. If you can relax with a cool drink, go to a movie, hear some music or wander in a museum, you will have a delightful time.

6/5 Your mood may be playful or tranquil, but unless you're in the arts, the odds are you won't want to work today. Your focus may be off, because you'd rather drift and dream or chat with a dear one. Nonetheless, some dues must be paid, so you might find a conversation takes a heavier tone or you need to hunker down in a certain activity. One way this could look is: a musician is practicing on a piece and has a breakthrough or your dinner bill totals out higher than you thought. You get to decide how the heavy piece is weighing in by how well you're paying attention to what is really happening.

6/6 The moon is VOC from 1:49 am to 1:50 am ET, which probably won't affect you. When it enters Aries, you may have an eventful dream, or if you're up and about after 2 am ET, you may notice an increase in activity which can have some unexpected results. With Uranus now in Aries, we are in a period of fast decisions with little reflection and this increases as of this morning because Jupiter joins the Aries action at 2:29 am. If you are an Aries or have Aries strongly in your chart, you can expect to sit up and take notice at this time (if you stop to sit at all). Sudden power struggles may erupt, especially if there's been a history of contention. This may abate later in the day so if you need to encounter someone who "pushes your buttons", save it for the afternoon/evening or avoid it all together.

6/7 Mars enters workmanlike Virgo, which lends itself well for details and follow-through on projects depending what else is happening. If you're a Virgo, you may feel an energy-surge, especially if you have a good ability to express your desire and drive. Overall, this is a clear day to put out ideas and get things done, although there may be discussion about cost vs. need. In other words, there may be a disconnect between what someone wants and what they feel they deserve. This is going to pass, so if you're having a frustrating night, take a walk or go to bed.

6/8 Early morning is good for spiritual centering, vision-work and burning through old ideas. The moon is VOC from 9:13 am to 11:41 am ET; perfect time for filing, cleaning or organizing (Aries moon). After that, the Taurus Moon is much more interested in shining on a focused task. Shopping, home design and gardening are all activities that can bring good results. A Mercury/Saturn aspect indicates an excellent ability to carry through an idea or concept. It also suggests building alliances with neighbors or siblings.

6/9 There may be some hitches in communications today. If you're feeling frustrated or confused, stepping away may be more productive than pushing forward. You may not have all the information and forcing an issue seldom leads to resolution. Plan a nice meal with a companion who is easy on the digestion.

6/10 Messages may fly in via text, email and phone that might switch around your plans in the morning. A steady course can help you get a lot done, in spite of the distractions. Nonetheless, things may not go as planned, especially in the late afternoon. The moon is VOC from 3:51 pm to 6:11 pm ET. Once the moon enters Gemini you may be able to connect the dots more efficiently. Depending on your temperament, this can be an active evening of conversation and writing or you can rest up with a good book for tomorrow.

6/11 The Gemini moon may create a lot of wheel-spinning in your head. This can be useful if you're planning strategies for the next few weeks, or it can be "monkey-mind". If you feel like you're going over the same tapes, take a meditation walk or go somewhere you won't be able to think (except about what you're doing) like an exercise or spinning class. This is the day before the New Moon, so it works best if you can clear away old business and set yourself up for the new, or if a project is in the works, the continuation in a refreshed way.

6/12 New Moon in Gemini- 21°24". Sabian symbols: "A barn dance"

The New Moon triggers the emotional content of the volatile energy dancing about right now... and it certainly will in media, our perception of news and how we exchange information. It is essential to connect with people in a clear and conscious way.... Avoid gossip, worry and the spinning of tales; embrace new ways to learn and seek a rounded view of news- highly important in this time of polar opposites.

Moon VOC from 7:35 pm to 9:50 pm ET when it enters Cancer... early cardinal- could be tumultuous evening.

6/13 Moon in Cancer is in direct opposition to Pluto at 5:17 am ET- avoid emotional encounters/ sleep through it... although some may wake restless. An overall good day for implementing plans, forging relationships and making things happen. Be prepared for strong wills, but this can create movement for a common cause.

6/14 Venus enters Leo today which begins a cycle of wanting to dress up, act out and play. Depending on your comfort level with this kind of activity, it's either a call to action or time to watch. Because Uranus (revolution, change) is in early Aries (another fire sign) it sets the mood for unexpected drama. If this is not your thing, hopefully you find it entertaining. If it is, get ready for anything!

In spite of the pyrotechnics, this is still a good day to aim for a goal or set something in motion as look as you're aware of the volatility potential afoot.

6/15 It may be hard to get anything concrete done today but you can have a lot of fun in the trying. Make time for your loved one, especially in the waking hours ET. Love is in the air, so if no one holds that place for you, someone might catch your eye. You can also channel that juicy creativity into art or a project. Play with children may be sweet and stimulating. Whatever you do, take a risk, even a calculated one as long as it's fun, relatively safe and within your budget.

6/16 Not quite as free-wheelin' as yesterday, but still a day for child's play. What's important here is to try to reconcile your will with your spirit's desire, and the two are not always in synch. We earth creatures usually have agendas that directly conflict with what we feel is the right path. If you feel a conflict, it may be heightened today. It is the Universe's way of gently (or sometimes not so gently) noodging you to consider another way of doing something. If you go through the tension you may receive some illumination. Otherwise, you can shelve it for another time. The feeling will pass, but if it's chronic, it will return. The moon is VOC from 11:24 pm to 1:41 am ET.... in Leo if you're out partying, you probably will have forgettable conversations.

6/17 A Virgo moon may create a refreshing change from the frenetic mood of the last couple of days, no matter how much you enjoyed them. Now it's time to address the vision and outline the details. Perfect day for meetings, and communications, especially early morning and after noon.

6/18 Yesterday's theme continues, without the break. Perfect time to begin an exercise or diet regime or to initiate a new setup at work (even if it is Friday).

6/19 The moon is VOC from 1:04 am to 4:13 am, perfect for cleaning up email if you're a night owl and even better for sleeping. The moon is in Libra and the morning is rough. Rough for relating, whether to your spouse, your kids, your neighbor or boss... it's as though we are all bouncing around on different frequencies in the morning and need to express ourselves without a lot of listening. If you find yourself in a potential argument, you might want to choose to step away, whether it's with someone you know or a stranger in a store. There will be no winners in the immediate outcome, but if you're comfortable locking horns and standing your ground, then do that. The winners will be those who manage to balance all sides and provide compromise. This is happening on a world stage, and in every backyard, kitchen or workplace that successfully negotiates, we are one step closer to a more cohesive humankind.

6/20 Father's Day has a Libra Moon past the mine field of the early cardinal planets. This can be a lovely day to celebrate partnership. People want to relate harmoniously and if you've any family gunk or messy neighbor problems, this is a good day to meet on common ground.

6/21 Summer Solstice at 7:30 am when the sun enters Cancer. The moon is VOC from 5:45 am to 8:14 am when it enters Scorpio. If you have any emotional issues, keep a box of tissues at hand because you may feel a bit tossed in the waves emotionally. Even "happy" can get weepy when there is this much intensity in the symbolic sky.

6/22 Research, sluthing and therapeutic endeavors thrive with a Scorpio Moon. this is another volatile day emotionally, so plan your appointments and encounters accordingly... especially if you're a water sign.

6/23 You may prefer a quiet morning, although you can get quite a bit done if you prioritize. You may start to feel scattered in late morning, which is because Spirit is asking for some of your time and attention. If you take some time in the late morning to meditate, nap, take a walk while really paying attention to the moment, you will probably head for the afternoon with a clear head. The moon is VOC from 11:33 am to 2:10 pm ET when the moon enters Sagittarius. At this point, your opportunities to launch something successfully, whether it's a phone call or a new product, really increase.

6/24 The Sagittarius moon continues to set the mood for action towards dreams. Money conversations can go well, especially when started in the morning. It is essential that you are clear, listen well and write things down, no matter how tedious it may seem to you now.

6/25 Mercury enters Cancer. Conversations may not go well in the morning (to put it mildly) but if you maintain your balance, you can achieve resolution. Don't expect immediate results, and don't get disappointed before you know the results. The moon is VOC from 7:34 pm to 10:21 pm ET when it enters Capricorn.

6/26 Lunar Eclipse 4 ° capricorn 46" – Sabian symbol for this point is "An auto wrecked by a train" and for the Cancer degree: "Indians rowing a canoe and dancing a war dance" This is the catalyst for the great picture in the sky, signaling another 6 months of change and action.... Time to balance all areas of your life with clear and honest evaluation. If it's not working and you aren't committed to it, let it go.

6/27 Moon in Capricorn - excellent time to reassess projects and aim for the long haul. Only take on tasks you are committed to seeing through.

6/28 Moon VOC from 5:56 am to 8:52 am ET. Once the moon enters Aquarius, more ideas may flood into the room. People are talking, unexpected opportunities and events upset the status quo, but not necessarily detrimentally. The less flexible, the harder the fall.

6/29 It may be hard to come to terms with what you'd like to do and the funds you have to make it happen. It could also be that what is dear and important to you is not having any impact on your significant other, partner or co-worker. The antidote for this is to focus on a resolution that will provide spiritual satisfaction to all concerned. You don't need to know how to get there, you just need to believe it's possible.

6/30 An excellent day to hold yesterday's vision. The moon is VOC from 6:04 pm to 9:09 pm when it enters Pisces. Watch a movie that makes you believe in humanity or listen to music to recharge. It's been an action-packed month.
